

TROUBLE

Threatened Among Miners in and Around Maysville.

Sheriff Titus Requested to Come to the Scene and Settle Matters.

The Non-Unionists Taxed and a Number of them Left to Work Their Own Wives Said to Have Threatened to Boycott Them.

FORKNOX. April 24.—A messenger in a buggy drove into town from Maysville with a message to the sheriff that Sheriff Titus come to the scene of the mining troubles at once with sufficient force to suppress the riotous strikers. He stated that the operators were threatening their lives and the village was about to be sacked and burned. The sheriff gathered up a dozen citizens and placed them at the Grand Bileter hotel, where he could reach the telephone, and then went to the scene of trouble single-handed to reconnoiter.

Strikes evidently notified the strikers of his approach, as they disappeared from the village before his arrival. He remained there until a late hour, but nothing of a serious character happened.

Monday night's outbreak was caused by the result that miners' demands had been refused and that eighteen men would go into the mines Tuesday morning. The strikers were determined that the non-union men must go. They had a secret meeting at Schell's hall Monday night, and resolved to harass them until forced to retreat.

It is expected that Company I, Seventh regiment, O. N. G., stationed at Maysville, will move below, will be on hand if trouble is not otherwise quelled at once.

Ten non-union men notified the operators at the Williams mine Tuesday morning that they would work or not. The strikers then have a demand for the miners to go into the mines taking eight others with them. Only eight workmen remain. The strikers now say there was no necessity of calling out the county officers Monday night, as no violence was contemplated.

C. W. Horner, Superintendent, ST. MARY, Minn., Sept. 7th, 1894.

Europe Chewing Gum, La Crosse, Wis.—Dear Sirs:—I have been a reader for many years, and during that time have often written to you on various occasions, but until my physician told me I must give up tobacco, I have not written. I have tried "Nico-to-bees" and other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally read in your "Haboo-Cure." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and I am now a non-smoker. I have been a heavy chewer, and my craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker appreciates, has completely left me. I thank you for your "Haboo-Cure" and will only repeat what you say in your very true, C. W. HORNER.
